Salem Female Academy.

THIS Institution, founded A. D. 1804, at Salem, N. C., is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located in the midst of the largest of its congregations in the South.

Domestic Arrangement.

THE pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering from twenty to twenty-two in each. Each of these has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the Principal and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice.

Scholastic Arrangement.

The classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to those branches even in the highest of our classes.

Regular Studies.

The various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c., &c.

Extra Branches.

Instruction is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c., &c.

Discipline.

The government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress, &c.

No uniform Dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of simplicity and economy in this respect. Articles of dress will be furnished and placed to account, but it can not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or in their own names. Everything required must be purchased with the consent, and upon the responsibility of the Principal, and will be accounted for by him to parents and guardians.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions, &c.

THE Sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively at New Year and on the last Monday in July, and closing at the end of May and end of December. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter, from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation are charged at the same rates as during the full session.

Admission.

PUPILS will be admitted whenever there are vacancies; and will be charged from the time of entering only. Each scholar's quarter (three months) commences with the day of her entering school. No scholar can be received unless application in writing has been previously made. A List or Register of applications is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Those who have their names registered in this way are not expected to consider themselves bound thereby, but may withdraw their names at any time. Due notice having been given, vacancies will not be kept open beyond the appointed time. Pupils will be charged only for the time they remain at school, provided they are not removed during the latter part of the Session, in which case the charges will be continued to the end of the Term. No deductions for temporary absence during the Session.

Visiting.

The pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the Principal must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or old friends of the family.

Correspondence.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the Principal, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

Expenses, &c.

The Expense for Board, Washing, Tuition, and outlays for necessary Clothing, Books, Stationery, and all other usual contingencies for a student taking an average number of the extra studies, will amount to about $300 or $325 per annum. Where but few or none of the extra branches are taken, and especially when the scholar is furnished with clothing from home, the amount of the bill will of course be considerably less, as may be calculated from the terms on last page.

Salem Female Academy.

THIS Institution, founded A. D. 1804, at Salem, N. C., is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located in the midst of the largest of its congregations in the South.

Domestic Arrangement.

THE pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering from twenty to twenty-two in each. Each of these has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the Principal and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

Scholastic Arrangements.

THE classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

Regular Studies.

THE various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c.,

Extra Branches.

INSTRUCTION is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c., &c.

Discipline.

THE government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress, &c.

No uniform Dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of simplicity and economy in this respect. Articles of dress will be furnished and placed to account, but it can not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or in their own names. Everything required must be purchased with the consent, and upon the responsibility of the Principal, and will be accounted for by him to parents and guardians.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions, &c.

The Sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively at New Year and on the last Monday in July, and closing at the end of May and end of December. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter, from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation are charged at the same rates, in all respects, as during the full session.

Admission.

Pupils will be admitted whenever there are vacancies; and will be charged from the time of entering only. Each scholar's quarter (three months) dates from the time of her entering school. No scholar can be received unless application in writing has been previously made. A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be notified and received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Those who have their names registered in this way are not considered bound thereby, but may withdraw their names at any time. Due notice having been given, vacancies will not be kept open beyond the appointed time. Pupils will be charged only for the time they remain at school, provided they are not removed during the latter part of the Session, in which case the charges will be continued to the end of the Term. No deductions for temporary absence during the Session.

Visiting.

THE pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the Principal must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or old friends of the family.

Correspondence.

THE correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the Principal, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

Expenses, &c.

THE Expense for Board, Washing, Tuition, and outlays for necessary Clothing, Books, Stationery, and all other usual contingencies for a student taking an average number of the extra studies, will amount to about $300 or $350 per annum. Where but few or none of the extra branches are taken, and especially when the scholar is furnished with clothing from home, the amount of the bill will of course be considerably less, as may be calculated from the terms on last page.

Salem Female Academy.

THIS INSTITUTION, founded A. D. 1804, is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the South. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located at Salem, N. C.

Domestic Arrangement.

The pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering from twenty to twenty-two in each. Each of these has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the Principal and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice.

Scholastic Arrangements.

THE classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

Regular Studies.

THE various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c.

Extra Branches.

INSTRUCTION is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c, &c.

Discipline.

THE government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress, &c.

No uniform Dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of simplicity and economy in this respect. Articles of dress will be furnished and placed to account, but it can not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or in their own names. Everything required must be purchased with the consent, and upon the responsibility of the Principal, and will be accounted for by him to parents and guardians.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions, &c.

THE Sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively at New Year and on the last Monday in July, and closing at the end of May and end of December. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter, from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation are charged at the same rates, in all respects, as during the full session.

Admission.

PUPILS will be admitted whenever there are vacancies; and will be charged from the time of entering only. Each scholar's quarter (three months) dates from the time of her entering school. No scholar can be received unless application in writing has been previously made. A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be notified and received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Those who have their names registered in this way are not considered bound thereby, but may withdraw their names at any time. Due notice having been given, vacancies will not be kept open beyond the appointed time. Pupils will be charged only for the time they remain at school, provided they are not removed during the latter part of the Session, in which case the charges will be continued to the end of the Term. No deductions for temporary absence during the Session.

Visiting.

The pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the Principal must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or old friends of the family.

Correspondence.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the Principal, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

Expenses, &c.

The Expense for Board, Washing, Tuition, and outlays for necessary Clothing, Books, Stationery, and all other usual contingencies, for a student taking an average number of the extra studies, will amount to about $300 or $350 per annum. Where but few or none of the extra branches are taken, and especially when the scholar is furnished with clothing from home, the amount of the bill will of course be considerably less, as may be calculated from the terms on last page.

SALEM COLLEGE LIBRARY SALEM, N. C.

Salem Female Academy.

THIS INSTITUTION, founded A. D. 1804, is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located at Salem, N. C.

Domestic Arrangement.

THE pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering from twenty to twenty-two in each. Each of these has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the President and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice.

Scholastic Arrangement.

THE classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

Regular Studies.

THE various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, &c., Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c., &c.

Extra Branches.

INSTRUCTION is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c., &c.

Discipline.

THE government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress, &c.

No uniform dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of economy in this respect. It is desirable that the pupils should be supplied with dress, shoes, &c., from home. Articles of dress CANNOT be furnished and placed to account unless a deposit of money for that purpose is left in the hands of the President. It will not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or their own names. The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions, &c.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively at New Year and on the last of July, and closing at the end of May and end of December. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter, from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation are charged at the same rates, as during the full session.

Admission, &c.

PUPILS will be admitted whenever there are vacancies; A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deductions will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

Visiting.

THE pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

Correspondence.

THE correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

SESSIONS.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively at New Year and on the first of August, and closing at the end of May and end of December. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter, from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation are charged at the same rates, as during the full session.

ADMISSION.

Pupils will be admitted whenever there are vacancies; A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deductions will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

VISITING.

The pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

SALEM COLLEGE LIBRARY Salem, N. C.

SALEM FEMALE ACADEMY.

THIS INSTITUTION, founded A. D. 1804, is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located at Salem, N. C.

DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENT.

THE pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering about twenty. Each company has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the President and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice

SCHOLASTIC ARRANGEMENT.

The classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

REGULAR STUDIES.

The various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, Rhetoric, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Physical and Mental Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c.

EXTRA BRANCHES.

Instruction is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c.

DISCIPLINE.

The government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

DRESS.

No uniform dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of economy in this respect. It is desirable that the pupils should be supplied with dress, shoes, &c., from home. Articles of dress CANNOT be furnished and placed to account unless a deposit of money for that purpose is left in the hands of the President. It will not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or their own names. The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

SESSIONS.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively on the first of August and at New Year, and closing at the end of December and end of May. Vacation, in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation will be charged at the rate of sixteen dollars per month.

ADMISSION.

Pupils will be admitted whenever there are vacancies. A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be received, in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deductions will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

VISITING.

The pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school, or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

SALEM COLLEGE LIBRARY
Winston-Salem, N. C.

SALEM FEMALE ACADEMY.

THIS INSTITUTION, founded A. D. 1804, is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located at Salem, N. C.

The nearest Railroad station is High Point, on the North Carolina Railroad, with which there is daily communication by stage. The first section of the North-Western North Carolina Railroad, from Greensboro' N. C., to Salem, is now in progress.

DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENT.

THE pupils are distributed into companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering about twenty. Each company has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the President and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice.

SCHOLASTIC ARRANGEMENT.

THE classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more or less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

REGULAR STUDIES.

THE various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, Rhetoric, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Physical and Mental Philosophy, Physiology, Chemistry, Botany, Geology, &c.

EXTRA BRANCHES.

INSTRUCTION is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c.

DISCIPLINE.

THE government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

DRESS.

No uniform dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of economy in this respect. It is desirable that the pupils should be supplied with dress, shoes, &c., from home. Articles of dress CANNOT be furnished and placed to account unless a deposit of money for that purpose is left in the hands of the President. It will not be permitted that pupils should open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or their own names. The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

SESSIONS.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively on the first of August and at New Year, and closing at the end of December and end of May. Vacation, in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter from Christmas to New Year. Pupils remaining during vacation will be charged at the rate of sixteen dollars per month.

ADMISSION.

PUPILS will be admitted whenever there are vacancies. A List or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered, and as fast as vacancies occur the applicants will be received in turn, according to the date of the entries on the Register. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deductions will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

VISITING.

THE pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power.—Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

The various regular branches of instruction are as follows:

Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, Rhetoric, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Physical and Mental Philosophy, Physiology, Chemistry, Botany, Geology, &c.

Class Books.

THE following Class Books were used last session:

HISTORY—Quackenbos' Primary United States; Robbins' Outlines; Lyman's Historical Chart.

GEOGRAPHY—Mitchell's Primary Geography; Mitchell's School Geography and Atlas; Colton's Physical Geography.

ASTRONOMY—Smith's and Kiddle's.

GRAMMAR—Smith's and Quackenbos'; Webster's Dictionary and Spelling Book; Boyd's Rhetoric.

MATHEMATICS—Davies' Course.

LATIN—Bingham's Grammar; Anthon's Cæsar, Virgil and Dictionary.

FRENCH—Pujol and Van Norman's Class Book; Le-Grand-Pere; Telemaque.

GERMAN—Worman's,—Heydenreich.

BOTANY—Gray's.

PHILOSOPHY—Comstock's; Watts on the Mind.

Extra Branches.

INSTRUCTION is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music, and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c.

Discipline.

THE government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity, and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Salem Female Academy.

THIS INSTITUTION, founded A. D. 1804, is believed to be the oldest existing Boarding School for young ladies in the Southern States. It stands under the auspices and control of the Moravian Church, and is located at Salem, N. C.

The nearest Railroad station is High Point on the North Carolina Railroad, with which there is daily communication by stage. The first section of the North-Western North Carolina Railroad from Greensboro', N. C., to Salem, is now in progress.

Domestic Arrangements.

THE pupils are distributed in companies or families, consisting respectively of those most nearly of an age, and numbering about twenty. Each company has a sitting and a dressing room, and other apartments appropriated to its own use; but social intercourse with other inmates of the establishment is allowed, under slight restrictions. Each of these divisions is placed under the special direction of two resident Tutoresses, whose duty it is to preside in turn. They exercise a general monitorial and parental superintendence, subordinate only to the President and his wife, who occupy the position of parents to the whole family.

By this arrangement strict attention to the morals of the pupils is secured, their studies are duly supervised, regular exercise cared for, and every exertion used to cultivate correct personal and social habits, as well as to instill the principles of early piety. The pupils and their teachers sleep in large dormitories, several room companies sharing the same apartment.

For cases of sickness and indisposition, rooms are specially provided, where the invalid enjoys quiet and repose, the attentions of a nurse, and proper medical advice.

Scholastic Arrangements.

The classification of the scholars in respect to their studies is entirely distinct from the above arrangement. Taking the pupil as we find her, we seek to place her into that class of each particular branch of instruction to which she appears to belong by proficiency, and her more of less rapid promotion depends upon her own efforts and progress in each study separately. Our first care, however, is that every one shall be thoroughly grounded in the Elementary English studies, and some portion of time continues to be devoted to these branches even in the highest of our classes.

Regular Studies.

The various regular branches of instruction are as follows: Spelling and Defining, Reading, Writing, Grammar and Analysis, Composition, Rhetoric, Literature, &c., Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Geography, History, Astronomy, the use of the Globes, Physical and Mental Philosophy, Physiology, Chemistry, Botany, Geology, &c.

Class Books.

The following Class Books were used last session:

History—Quackenbos' Primary United States; Robbins' Outlines; Lyman's Historical Chart.

Geography—Mitchell's Primary Geography, Mitchell's School Geography and Atlas; Colton's Physical Geography; Guyot's Wall Maps.

Astronomy—Smith's and Kiddle's.

Grammar—Smith's and Quackenbos'; Webster's Dictionary and Spelling Book; Boyd's Rhetoric.

Mathematics—Davies' Course.

Latin—Bingham's Grammar; Anthon's Cæsar, Virgil, Horace and Dictionary.

French—Pujol and Van Norman's Class Book; Le Conscrit de 1813; Trois Mois sous la Neige.

German—Worman's,—Heydenreich.

Botany—Gray's.

Philosophy—Comstock's, Steele's; Watt's on the Mind, Abercrombie's Mental.

Geology—Steele's.

Mythology—Dwight's.

Extra Branches.

Instruction is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Chenille, &c.

Discipline.

The government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity, and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress.

No uniform dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of economy in this respect. It is desirable that the pupils should be supplied with dress, shoes, &c., from home. Articles of dress CANNOT be furnished and placed to account unless a deposit of money for that purpose is left in the hands of the President. It will not be permitted that pupils open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or their own names. The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively on the first of August and at New Year, and closing at the end of December and the end of May. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter from Christmas to New Year. It is expected that pupils remain to the actual close of the session, and parents are particularly requested not to send for their daughters a few weeks or days previous to that time.

Pupils remaining during vacation will be charged at the rate of sixteen dollars per month.

Admission.

Pupils will be admitted whenever there are vacancies. A List, or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deduction will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

Visiting.

The pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power. Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

Correspondence.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President, and is subject to his inspection or that of the teachers appointed for this purpose.

Expenses.

For expenses and charges, see Terms on next page.

Unavoidable contingent expenses only, such as books, stationery, sheet music, &c., also medical attendance in case of sickness, will be placed to account. For clothing, pocket money, dentist bills, &c., funds must be deposited with the President, or sent to him.

Pupils should come well provided with clothing, shoes, towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

Payment in full of all dues is required before a pupil can be removed from school. No deduction when pupils are removed during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session. In other cases pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only. Accounts not settled at the end of a session will be charged with interest.

Criticism—Kames'.

Extra Branches.

Instruction is given in the Ancient and Modern Languages, Drawing in Pencil and Crayon, Painting, Music on the Piano, Guitar and Melodeon, Vocal Music and Ornamental Needle Work in Worsted, Linen, &c.

Discipline.

The government of the school is indicated above. System, regularity, and punctuality in all things is enforced. All should be made to feel at home and happy, but be fitted, at the same time, by the best training, for the sober duties and solid realities of life.

Dress.

No uniform dress is prescribed, but neatness and simplicity in dress are enjoined upon all. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to supply their daughters and wards with expensive dress, but rather to help us maintain our system of economy in this respect. It is desirable that the pupils should be supplied with dress, shoes, &c., from home. Articles of dress CANNOT be furnished and placed to account unless a deposit of money for that purpose is left in the hands of the President. It will not be permitted that pupils open accounts in the stores, &c., either in their parents' or their own names. The cash for all purchases must be sent. Pupils must furnish their own towels, &c., but no bedding or table furniture is required.

The young ladies are required to keep their own wardrobes in repair, and some hours of every week are devoted to plain needle work, which constitutes a separate branch of regular instruction, under the direction of those teachers to whom the superintendence of the dress, &c., of the pupils has been committed.

Sessions.

THE sessions are semi-annual, commencing respectively on the first of August and at New Year, and closing at the end of December and the end of May. Vacation in Summer only, during June and July, with a recess in Winter from Christmas to New Year. It is expected that pupils remain to the actual close of the session, and parents are particularly requested not to send for their daughters a few weeks or days previous to that time.

Pupils remaining during vacation will be charged at the rate of sixteen dollars per month.

Admission.

Pupils will be admitted whenever there are vacancies. A List, or "Register of Applications" is kept on which the names of those who desire it will be entered. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance only, but no deduction will be made in case of removal during the session. Scholars spending vacation at home and not returning punctually, will be charged from the first of the session.

Visiting.

The Pupils are not allowed to receive visitors at the school or make visits out of it, without instructions from their parents or guardians, and even then the President must be permitted to exercise a discretionary power. Visits in town, either in private families or at the hotels, will not be allowed, except it be to responsible relations or friends of the family.

Correspondence.

The correspondence of pupils must pass through the hands of the President, and is subject to his inspection or that of teachers appointed for this purpose.
